“The man said, ‘The woman you put here with me – she gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate it.’”

Genesis 3:12

Irresponsibility keeps us from _____

“²⁶Then God said, ‘Let us make human beings in our image, in our likeness, so that they may rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky, over the livestock and all the wild animals, and over all the creatures that move along the ground.’ ²⁷So God created human beings in his own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them. ²⁸God blessed them and said to them, ‘Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky and over every living creature that moves on the ground.’”
Genesis 1:26-28

We were created to _____

“⁸Then the man and his wife heard the sound of the Lord God as he was walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and they hid from the Lord God among the trees of the garden. ⁹But the Lord God called to the man, ‘Where are you?’ ¹⁰He answered, ‘I heard you in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked; so I hid.’ ¹¹And he said, ‘Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree that I commanded you not to eat from?’ ¹²The man said, ‘The woman you put here with me - she gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate it.’ ¹³Then the Lord God said to the woman, ‘What is this you have done?’ The woman said, ‘The serpent deceived me, and I ate.’” Genesis 3:8-13

You probably haven't thought about the Archimedes Principle in years, but it's still true. Basically, it explains the buoyancy of water. When leveraged, ships float. When ignored, they sink. The same holds true with the nature of responsibility. If we leverage it, the outcome is a gift. If we ignore it, the outcome seems like a punishment. So how do we make the most of responsibility?
